

GRACEN WITT

PROFILE

Born and raised in a small town in Virginia, I fell in love with fashion through movies, magazines, and history books. My passion for styles, colors, and textures began at an early age and I love taking on a new persona with changing moods and trends. From the timeless style of Kate Middleton and Ralph Lauren to edgy sportswear, my style evolves constantly. I love designing kids clothing, swimwear, and formal gowns, incorporating classic styles with a modern twist. My life goal is to pursue a career in fashion and I hope to work and grow in the design, styling, or merchandising department of an established apparel company.
